

Nicol Russouw

Nicol joined Paterson & Cooke in May 2009. Previously Nicol was involved in various projects in the diamond and coal industry ranging from conceptual studies to construction and commissioning.

Qualifications

2004, BEng Mechanical
University of Stellenbosch

Professional Status

Registered as Candidate
Engineer with Engineering
Council of South Africa

Specialization

Hydraulic and process
design of slurry pumping systems

Construction and commissioning of pumping
systems

Project management

Notable Projects

Sasol Fly Ash Paste Mixing Pilot Plant, South Africa (2009)

Nicol was involved in the detail design, procurement, construction and commissioning of the Fly Ash Paste Mixing Pilot Plant. The plant was commissioned in 2009.

DiamonEx Lerala Diamond Mine, Botswana (2008)

During the construction and commissioning Nicol was responsible for various sections of the processing plant.